

THIS WEEK'S NEWS

Dr. Seuss Celebration

Tomorrow is our Dr. Seuss Celebration. We are responsible for 1 dozen muffins and 1-2 jugs of juice. I currently have one family signed up to bring it ALL, and while I appreciate their willingness and generosity to cover all of it, I would love for another family or two to step up and cover part as well. Please contact Lyndsay Huebsch (our "Room Mom") if you are able to bring anything so she can plan accordingly. :)

Shoe Box Project

We are moving on to a new unit in science, and we'll be making "dioramas" (I'm using that term loosely) of a habitat. Please send in a shoe box for your child to use. We won't need these until the week before Spring Break, but you can start sending them in now! Please mark the bottom of the box with your child's name, so we don't get them mixed up in the process! :) Thank you!

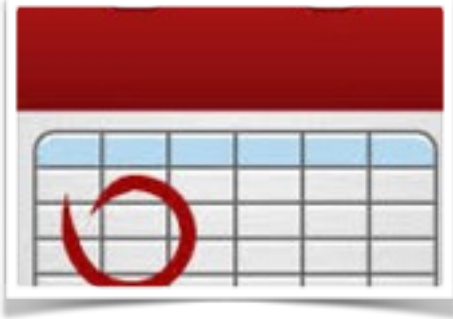

Continents & Oceans/ Books of the Bible Songs

We have been learning about the continents and oceans by practicing a song to the tune of "Frere Jacques". If your child hasn't sung it for you, ask them to do so! It's pretty cute! We'll sing this individually for a grade in a week or two.

We're also working on learning the books of the Bible in order. Some students may already know them in order, but for others, they need a bit more practice. We've been using the books of the Bible song from Awanas to help us. If your child knows another song, they can practice with that as well. At any point prior to April 7, your child can recite the books or sing the song for part of his or her Bible grade for the quarter.

If you'd like links to videos for the songs, let me know! :)

Reading Helpers

I currently have one parent who has been coming in on Wednesdays to listen to the students read. The class LOVES this time, because it's like a special treat to read out loud to someone besides me. We have time on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the same thing. I would love for parents to volunteer to listen to kids read on these days. Volunteers could come between 10:10 and 11:40 (or any portion of this time). Let me know if you are interesting in coming to listen to students read - this can be on an ongoing basis or just once. :)

Sickness

Unfortunately, there seem to be quite a few bugs going around lately! We will be wiping down the classroom with clorox/lysol wipes and reviewing hand-washing. Please help by reinforcing this at home, as well. Also, if your child shows signs of being sick, please keep them home. I appreciate families that work to have their kids in school, but with the number of contagious bugs going around it is helpful to prevent them from spreading! Thank you for helping to keep our class healthy!
