

THIS WEEK'S NEWS

Pie Results

Woo hoo! We did it! As a school, we made our goal of $4000 in pie sales! That means we'll get a pizza and pie party. More details about the party will be coming home soon. Keep your eyes open. :) Way to go everyone!

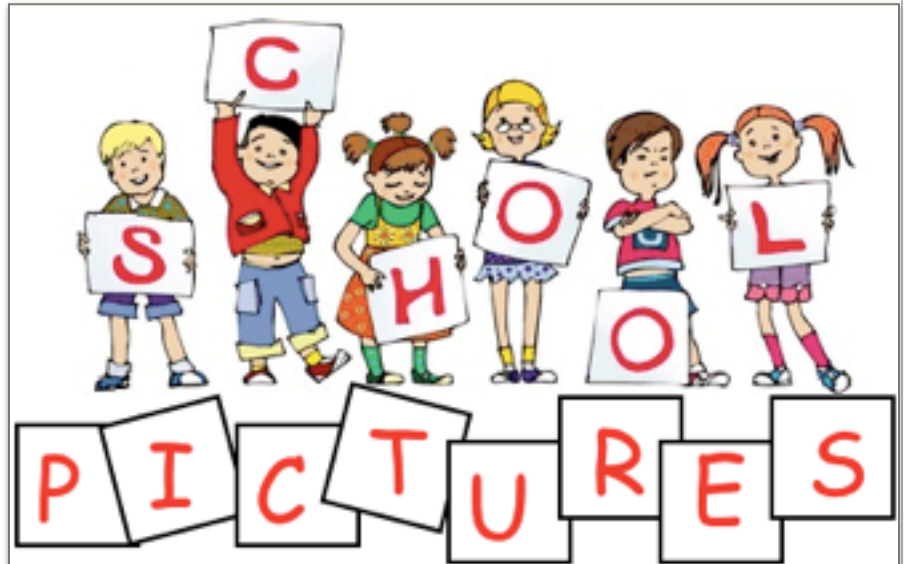

Scholastic Book Order

Our September Book Order has is due to be delivered tomorrow by the end of the day. If you ordered books, I will send them home with your child tomorrow (if they arrive before school is out) or on Thursday. Thanks for helping your child be excited for reading and also helping us grow our classroom library! :)

October order information came home with your child yesterday. Those orders are due by October 21.

Missing Work

If your child has missing work listed on his or her progress report, please help them complete and return it. If it is an assignment you believe your child has completed, double check returned/graded work, as I may have mistakenly sent it home without entering the grade. Thanks! :)

Picture Day

Picture day is THIS Thursday, October 8.

We will be taking pictures in the morning before recess. Please send your child to school ready for pictures, as we will not have extra time in class to have students change, etc.

Many students will bring a change of clothes to help keep their picture day outfit clean. We will have time after pictures to change, so you may send in an outfit for your child to change to afterwards.

Please return your picture order forms prior to pictures. This helps our wonderful photographers keep things organized. :)

Thanks!

ACSI Conference

Next Thursday, October 15, and Friday, October 16, there is no school in order for the teachers to attend the ACSI conference, "Connexus Live". This is a simulcast conference all across the world, and our host location is Salem Academy. This is a wonderful opportunity for teachers to grow as teachers, as ACSI provides a variety of wonderful speakers and activities for teachers to learn from, as well as time for worship together with other Christian school teachers in Salem and across the globe.

This truly is a blessing to the teachers, as it allows us to refresh our skills, take a breath, focus on God, and fellowship with other teachers. It is so helpful to hear from and talk with other teachers, as we're usually so busy in our own classrooms.

We really appreciate your help with this opportunity, and we know it can be inconvenient to have 2 days to figure out during the school year. I hope it doesn't alter your schedule too drastically, and that you are able to find childcare if it's needed. We are so thankful for your help in that. :)

I feel truly blessed to spend my inservice days worshipping alongside other teachers. It is such a blessing to teach at a Christian school and to interact with families who want to serve God as well.
